8. I had the pleasure of meeting Peggy and Nick Milfeld in 1989 when we accompanied Dr. John Creech on a trip to Japan to attend the 1st International Azalea Festival and Symposium in Kurume. Dr. Creech published an account of the trip in The Azalean, September 1989. 11(3): 46-49.

10. In only a few years, the original pen impressions on the “permanent” soft metal tags eventually become obscured and indecipherable from the effects of environmental forces unknown (inevitable wear). Similarly, and consistent with my experience with “permanent” ink, the longer name would be advantageous as ink on labels “ages” at a variable rate and a partial name is often enough to allow identification
11. This is not a case of “new math.” There are five cultivars in Table 1, but ‘Freida’s Benjamin’ and ‘Nancy Marie’ are the same flower, so three is the correct number here.
12. Paul Harvey Aurandt (1918-2009) was an ABC Radio Networks news and commentary broadcaster who was known for his very entertaining “The Rest of the Story” segments which concluded appropriately with... “and now you know the rest of the story.”

The author expresses appreciation to Dr. Judy Karpen of Silver Spring, MD, to Peggy and Nick Milfeld and Anthony Carrillo of Milfeld’s Nursery in Riverside CA, and to Maarten van der Giessen of Van Der Giessen Nursery, Inc. in Mobile, AL for their assistance in the discovery phase of this article.

Navigating The Azalean Online

By Paul Beck—Treasurer and Assistant Webmaster

This is the third in a series of articles describing the interactive features of the new ASA website. This article focuses on the online edition of The Azalean. The search page can be found by clicking on the menu The Azalean > Azalean Online. This article is a brief tutorial on how to use the various capabilities related to searching, reading, and ordering The Azalean.

Searching

There are two methods to use to search for articles in The Azalean. At the top of the Azalean Online page is a Google® Custom Search bar. This works like every Google search, restricting the search area to be The Azalean. Enter one or more search terms, and press Enter or click the blue search button. The search results will appear in a “lightbox” on top of The Azalean page.

Below the Google search bar, the first time you load the page, are a set of detailed search instructions. These explain how to perform the next type of search, which limits the displayed search results to a range of publication years, words in the title or author names. You can read the instructions displayed on the page, so they will not be repeated here. After the first search is performed, the instructions will disappear to provide more information on the page. The Clear Search button will restore those instructions.

The screenshot shows a search form with the following elements:

- From year: [input field]
- Title: [input field]
- To year: [input field]
- Author: [input field]
- Show TOC: Click to show the table of contents and article titles simultaneously
- Submit [button]
- Clear Search [button]

Note the comment under the search dialog which reminds you that you need to login in order to view the contents of the 12 most recent issues. This is done to restrict this benefit

Browsing

Immediately below the search dialog is a series of quick jump hyperlinks to quickly display a range of issues restricted to the indicated years, as shown in the figure below. These links permit quickly hopping around to browse the different issues by year. Underneath these browse links is a list of the issues from the most recent backwards:

Issue	TOC	Quantity	Order online via PayPal™
Click issue title to view entire issue	Click to view
Volume 40, Number 3, Fall 2018	[Contents]	9	Domestic $2.00 USD <input type="button" value="Add to Cart"/>
Volume 40, Number 2, Summer 2018	[Contents]	10	Domestic $2.00 USD <input type="button" value="Add to Cart"/>

Viewing Individual Articles

You will note “(Contents)” to the right of the issue title. This is a hyperlink that, when clicked, will produce a pop-up lightbox with the table of contents for the issue. At the top is the issue name, which is a hyperlink to display the full issue at once. Clicking on the individual article titles will open a PDF of the individual article in a separate tab.

Displaying Table of Contents While Browsing

Under the search dialog is a “Show TOC” checkbox. Clicking this checkbox will show the table of contents inline as you browse, rather than in a pop-up “lightbox”. After you click the checkbox, you will need to click the Submit button to re-execute the search with the contents inline.

Ordering Back Issues Online

If back issues are available in paper copy, they may be ordered online at this point by clicking the “Add to Cart” button at the end of each issue line. Before clicking on the button to order the issue, if you reside in Canada or an overseas location, you need to select the correct price with the drop-down list to the left of the button. After you click the button, you will be taken to PayPal™ where you can change the quantity before completing the order.

Description	Price	Quantity	Total
Hardcopy Azalean more	$2.00	- 1 + <input type="button" value="Remove"/>	$2.00

Note that if you wish to order more than one issue, you should click the Add to Cart button for each issue before completing the transaction in PayPal™. Click the “Continue shopping” link in the upper right corner of your shopping cart to go back to the ASA website to add more issues. When you are finished adding issues and adjusting the quantities, you can then complete the transaction with the orange PayPal™ Check Out button (requires PP account) or the grey Check Out button, which allows you to pay with a credit card and does not require a PP account.

Up Next—Calendars

The next article in this series will discuss the new chapter calendar feature, which can be located in the About the Society->Chapters menu. This new page allows the society chapters to have their calendars online for all to see.
